

There is a different way to lead, a different way to converse, and a different way to do business.

The world is a very different place with Millennials and bridging the gaps with XGen more important now than ever. Combine this with the exciting new era of TEAL management that is naturally emerging and blending a coach approach into every day conversations becomes an absolute must. Navigational Conversations is a leadership programme that will help you become equipped to understand people-stuff, lead powerfully, self-manage, grow emotional intelligence, and develop confidence + capability with healthy game-changing conversations.

Here's a quick glance at what we'll touch on -

- Recognise how to reduce draining toxic patterns
- How easy it is to blend coaching into conversations
- Listen to what's really being said vs. jumping straight to problem-solving
- Powerfully influence the shift from micro-management to collective, creative teams with strong values
- How to communicate so you get your point across
- How to respond rather than react
- Bring about collaborative work cultures that naturally empower and develop
- Increase your confidence while handling defensive reactions with ease during feedback
- Work on yourself first to operate from a high-lining place
- Plus more ...

This leadership programme is customised for both the younger generation and XGen. If you are titled as a leader or not, you can absolutely take this current ceiling and make it the next floors.

Navigational Conversations is a highly rated global programme that

- Builds effective communication and confidence with teams, clients and your community
- Develops robust problem-solving skills within others so they feel valued contributing to solutions
- Expands your emotional intelligence
- Fuels collective creativity that goes a long way to navigating TEAL leadership perspectives

Take this opportunity to move ahead and stay there with our proven 3-phase 10-12 week programme

- Get started with a 2-day workshop taking key steps towards healthy contagious and empowering conversations (16 hours)
- Embed key behaviours and knowledge with a transformational follow-up half-day workshop

PLUS

- On-going support with 60 mins one2one 'just-in-time' coaching
- Time between sessions to practice all you learn – giving time to reflect, drive and assess progress

Check out locations and dates close to you at www.corenewalker.com/whats-on Payment plan in two instalments makes this easily affordable.

Here's to building and growing a healthy generation of new leaders!

