Facing drought together

A rare opportunity to access local data and industry leaders for your farming, contracting or consultancy business.

Agricom develops proven, research-backed pasture and forage seed options, turning on farm data into practical guidance that helps drive productivity and profitability on your farm.

We'll share exclusive data from this local trial site including:

- Which cultivars and ryegrass types performed best through the drought
- Which cultivars recovered best - and see them for yourself!
- Taranaki's seasonal growth curves
- Drymatter and yield performance across 16 varieties including five different endophytes
