

Join us at our open day: Clarence & Elise Stolte, Stolte Ag, Greater Wellington Regional Supreme Winners

Clarence and Elise Stolte have spent the past 18 years shaping their 387ha dairy farm into a resilient, high-performing business grounded in clear values and long-term thinking. Progressing from farm managers to sole owners through a strategic partnership, they have built an operation focused on producing high-quality, nutritious food, supporting their people and community, and protecting the natural environment.

Their commitment to sustainability is evident through significant investment in a composting barn, improving soil health, animal welfare, and pasture condition. They also embrace technology, including cow collars and digital communication tools, to enhance efficiency and team connection. Environmental stewardship is a priority, with extensive native planting, wetland care, and an on-farm nursery supplying plants for both their property and the wider community.

Involved in local groups and schools, the Stoltes are known for their strong community spirit. Their farm is a great example of how thoughtful, values-led decisions can drive both profitability and positive impact - something visitors will experience firsthand at their open day.

All welcome, please join us!
